Land & Buildings Hires Houlihan Lokey to Conduct Independent Financial Review in Connection with Its Investment in MGM Resorts International

- Follows Continued Inaction on Part of MGM, Including Refusal to Heed Land & Buildings' Call to Hire Independent Advisors -

Stamford, CT— (April 13, 2015) – Land and Buildings, an investment firm specializing in publicly traded real estate and real estate related securities, and a shareholder of MGM Resorts International (NYSE: MGM) (“MGM” or the “Company”), today announced that it has retained Houlihan Lokey as its financial advisor to assist in conducting an independent review of Land and Buildings’ recommendations and proposals for enhancing shareholder value at MGM. Land and Buildings intends to nominate four highly qualified, independent director nominees for consideration by shareholders at the Company’s upcoming 2015 Annual Meeting. Land and Buildings believes the addition of these qualified and independent nominees to the Board of MGM is critical to unlocking value at the Company and ensuring that the interests of shareholders are appropriately represented in the boardroom.

Jonathan Litt, Founder and Chief Investment Officer of Land and Buildings, stated, “We have been extremely disappointed by the lack of appropriate urgency and apparent unwillingness of MGM’s Board and management to engage in a constructive dialogue with shareholders. This includes the Board’s decision to ignore our call to hire independent financial advisors to evaluate our proposals and other available options for the benefit of all shareholders. And while the Company has stated that it is exploring a REIT conversion, we are not confident such review is truly independent, is being done on a scale or as expeditiously as is appropriate, or will be shared directly with MGM’s independent directors. As a result we believe we were compelled to do what MGM’s Board has not done, retain an independent financial advisor, Houlihan Lokey, to conduct a thorough strategic review and share that with us over the next few weeks.”

This independent review by Houlihan Lokey will focus on, but not be limited to Land and Buildings’ proposal that MGM explore a REIT conversion, a tax free spin-off of a lodging C-corp, a reduction of leverage through asset sales and an MGM China special dividend. Land and Buildings expects to share additional insight with its fellow shareholders, as well as with MGM, following its receipt of the results of the independent review by Houlihan Lokey.
