

LAND AND BUILDINGS URGES BRE PROPERTIES TO EXPLORE STRATEGIC ALTERNATIVES TO MAXIMIZE SHAREHOLDER VALUE

- Nominates Slate of Six Highly Qualified Candidates to Join BRE Properties Board of Directors -

NEW YORK (December 5, 2013) – Land and Buildings, an investment firm specializing in publicly traded real estate and real estate related securities, urges BRE Properties’ (NYSE: BRE) (the “Company”) Board of Directors to explore a sale of the company in light of reports by Bloomberg on Wednesday, December 4th that Essex Property Trust (NYSE: ESS) (“Essex”) has offered to purchase BRE “for about $5 billion.”

“BRE has chronically underperformed its closest comparables by a number of measures, including total returns, net operating income growth, FFO growth and dividend growth¹. Selling the Company to a best-in-class operator such as Essex would present an opportunity for BRE Properties’ shareholders to realize the potential of the Company’s intrinsic value,” said Jonathan Litt, founder and chief executive officer of Land and Buildings. “On behalf of all shareholders, we demand that the Board exercise its fiduciary duties and maximize shareholder value by exploring a sale of the Company.”

Land and Buildings also announced that it has nominated a slate of six highly qualified individuals to the Board at the Company (the “L&B Nominees”). If elected, the L&B Nominees would constitute a majority of the Company’s Board.

Mr. Litt continued, “We believe that our high level of frustration with the Company’s poor track record is reflective of the views of many of BRE’s shareholders. We have been engaged with BRE’s management for over a year and BRE’s Board since August about ways to drive shareholder value, including full operational and strategic reviews. Nonetheless, we continue to be open to a continuing and constructive dialogue to maximize shareholder value. We are confident our independent, highly qualified nominees will provide the Board with the necessary experience, stewardship and focus on shareholder return to effect the meaningful changes needed to address the significant valuation gap and unlock the inherent value of Company’s attractive portfolio of properties.”

The six L&B Nominees are as follows:

- Marc Gordon – Former President of hospitality company with expertise in capital allocation and marketing
- James Hoffmann – Experienced and respected institutional REIT investor at a leading investment firm
- Gregory Hughes – Former REIT CFO with experience across several sectors including multifamily
- Jonathan Litt – Founder and CEO of Land and Buildings and former top-ranked sell-side REIT analyst
- Charles Schoenherr – Former senior real estate investment banker and current sunbelt multifamily executive
- Howard Silver – Former hotel REIT CEO with extensive board experience and record of maximizing shareholder value

Marc Gordon

Marc Gordon is the Principal of Rubicon Holdings, LLC, an investment, asset management and consulting company focused on hospitality real estate, which he founded in 2011.

ⁱ "Closest comparables" are determined by Land and Buildings to be AvalonBay (NYSE: AVB) and Essex Property Trust (NYSE: ESS). Chronic underperformance measured on a trailing 3, 5 and 10 year basis. Total return data is through July 30, 2013, which is the estimated last date of a BRE stock price unaffected materially by Land and Buildings actions. Net operating income growth, FFO growth and dividend growth through full year 2013 company guidance and/or Bloomberg estimates. Essex and AvalonBay are deemed to be the closest comparables to BRE based on those companies' ownership of high quality, predominantly coastal United States apartment portfolios over the trailing 10 years.
